WELCOME

Dear Applicant

I am delighted that you are interested in applying to be a Teacher of Economics at Emmanuel College. We truly believe that Emmanuel College is a fantastic and exciting place to study as a student and work as a teacher. Whilst we are an outstanding school, we do not believe that we have finished our journey for improvement, and we are looking for the right candidate to work as a teacher of Economics within our Social Sciences department.

We are seeking a passionate and committed Economics Teacher to join our team at Emmanuel College. Our curriculum fosters a deep understanding of global economics, encouraging students to critically assess economic policies and the role of institutions in addressing market failures. Students will analyse real-world data and explore macroeconomic objectives such as growth and unemployment, while developing skills in econometrics and public policy analysis. The curriculum emphasises ethical considerations, challenging students to think critically about the moral implications of economic decisions. We aim to cultivate well-rounded individuals who excel academically and are prepared to contribute thoughtfully to the world beyond their studies.

Emmanuel College is a truly exceptional school, with excellent leadership, teaching and support for our students. We were inspected by Ofsted in October 2024 and deemed to be 'Outstanding' in all aspects of the school. In addition to this, we achieved record breaking results at both GCSE and in the Sixth Form consolidating our position as one of the top performing state schools both regionally and nationally.

As a Christian-ethos school of character for the whole community, everyone is welcome whatever their educational background and ability, faith position, social or ethnic background. Student behaviour is excellent, and we put a great deal of emphasis on ensuring that staff can work in an environment where students want to learn. These high standards are maintained because of a relentless commitment to expectations and routines and so each teacher should be enthusiastic about upholding these.

We are committed to the holistic development of young people: outstanding teaching goes hand in hand with opportunities for character development. As Principal of School, I am looking for teachers who are passionate about their subject, have expert subject knowledge and care deeply about securing the best life chances for the young people in our care. I am also interested in learning about you as a person and what you might offer the College beyond the Economics classroom and Social Sciences department. We firmly believe that for students to gain the most from school they should be able to experience a wide range of co-curricular offerings and your perspective on this would be most useful.

We believe that we are an exceptional school, not because of any external judgement or academic outcomes, but because we have a deep and abiding commitment to do the best we can for the students, teachers and leaders in our care. We want our College to be a place where staff come to work excited about the lessons they are going to teach and looking forward to strengthening the relationships they have with colleagues as well as students.

If what you have read above excites you and aligns with your personal values, experience and ambitions, then you are probably the right person for this role and you will love working here.

SUPPORT

We recognise that staff are our most important resource: they will have the biggest impact on the quality of education that our students receive. The Emmanuel staff body is an impressive group: well qualified, highly motivated and eminently hardworking. Colleagues are keen to continue developing their subject knowledge, pedagogical sophistication and classroom practice and the College is committed to doing all it can to support them in these endeavours.

The professional development of staff is a priority for us. All colleagues have access to a well-structured and high-quality professional development programme suited to their stage in their teaching journey and all teachers have the chance to pursue an NPQ through a national provider. Staff also take part in subject specific external development opportunities. Each member of staff has a line manager who is deeply interested in their wellbeing as well as their performance. In addition to this, all staff take part in our instructional coaching programme where they are paired with another member of staff to coach, and be coached, in an area of pedagogy they wish to develop.

In addition to the normal remuneration package that includes a contributory pension scheme, company sick pay and maternity/paternity leave, Emmanuel staff enjoy a number of additional benefits. These include a daily lunch allowance, free use of our fitness suite, access to our exclusive Benefits Hub, cycle to work scheme, parking on the College grounds, as well as access to Care First, a free, independent and confidential resource available to employees that can help with all manner of needs.

There is a sense of real community amongst the Emmanuel staff body. Various social events sit alongside the long tradition of colleagues getting together after the College day to play football or netball – new players always hugely welcome!

THE DEPARTMENT

The Social Sciences department is a dynamic and high-achieving team of dedicated professionals who are passionate about delivering engaging and academically rigorous lessons. We offer a broad curriculum that includes Economics, Health and Social Care, Law, Politics, Psychology, and Sociology. Our team shares a strong commitment to a 'no limits' culture and academic excellence, underpinned by exceptionally high expectations and a consistent approach to teaching and learning.

We are seeking an enthusiastic and knowledgeable Economics specialist who can inspire students and foster a deep interest in the subject. Our aim is to ensure that students develop a lasting passion for Economics, leading many to pursue it in the sixth form. This commitment is reflected in the strong demand for Economics at A Level and the impressive academic achievements of our students.

At Key Stage 4 and Key Stage 5, we follow the OCR Economics specification, providing students with a structured and comprehensive understanding of economic principles and real-world applications. Our department benefits from a wealth of experience, including staff who have worked directly with the exam board in curriculum development. The authoritative teaching of subject specialists is a defining feature of our department, ensuring that students receive high-quality instruction that prepares them for success in examinations and beyond.

As a department, we are committed to nurturing a culture of excellence and ambition, particularly at A Level. We have a wealth of experience in teaching post-16 qualifications, ensuring that new staff are supported with expert guidance. Our resources are extensive and well-maintained, enabling teachers to deliver engaging and effective lessons. We also encourage staff to take part in extra-curricular activities, whether through enrichment programs, competitions, or academic societies, as well as to pursue continuous professional development (CPD) opportunities to enhance their own expertise.

This is an exciting opportunity for a dedicated teacher to join a thriving department and contribute to the success of our students. If you are passionate about Economics and committed to high standards of teaching and learning, we would love to hear from you.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The Emmanuel College curriculum is designed to engage all students, no matter their background, in a broad and balanced range of subjects. Highly effective teaching and learning principles share our practice and are embedded within every classroom.

Our curriculum enables students to:

1. acquire the knowledge and cultural capital they need to succeed in life;
2. cultivate strong character and the intellectual discipline to apply their learnt knowledge correctly.

Emmanuel College is committed, for all students, to:

1. have access to an ambitious, coherent, knowledge-rich curriculum that allows all students to acquire and apply knowledge;
2. experience a straightforward delivery of said curriculum, supported by effective sequencing of topics with long-term learning at its core;
3. engage in reliable assessments that accurately gauge students' progress through the curriculum and further embed knowledge.

THE PERSON

The successful candidate will be able to work within the Social Sciences department which is led by the Head of Social Sciences to deliver the Economics curriculum at Key Stages 4 and 5. You must also be able and willing to teach a second subject ideally within the Social Sciences department which is comprised of: Level 2 and Level 3 Health and Social Care, Level 3 Applied Law, A Level Politics, A Level Psychology and A Level Sociology. We do expect all applicants to be well qualified, self-motivating, adaptable and imaginative and keen to join a team that is committed to achieving academic excellence in their teaching within the Social Sciences department to students of a wide ability range between the ages of 14 and 18.

Your motivation as a teacher will be the positive care and development of young lives and you will view children as individuals, gifted with unique abilities and potential regardless of background, ability or behaviour. A high level of commitment to achieving academic excellence compounded by proficient subject pedagogy and high standards of delivery is a prerequisite for this post. You will have the highest expectations of students, refusing to believe that socio-economic deprivation or special educational needs should act as a barrier to success, and possessing a natural authority in the classroom. You will aspire to be an outstanding teacher, combining a mastery of your subject with strong relationships with young people, and having a confident grasp of the craft of the classroom.

There is no requirement that individual teachers should be Christians, but it is essential however that all staff understand and enthusiastically support our mission, ethos and values. There is a remarkable unity of purpose within the current staff team as individuals unite around our core beliefs that people are infinitely precious, gifted for a purpose and morally responsible. A desire to work with the most deprived in our communities and those with low academic starting points, as well as with the most able and those from more privileged backgrounds, is an essential prerequisite.

If, prior to submitting your application, you wish to visit Emmanuel College to find out more about the role and the College, then you would be most welcome.
